

Content and Language Integrated Learning (Secondary School Education Staff)

This course description is an overview of the type of content you can expect to cover in this programme. Courses are tailored according to the teaching context of the participants. All courses support key outcomes required under the Europe 2020 Strategy in various formats with Europass available.

Who is this course for?

Secondary school teachers who teach subjects (e.g. Science, Maths, History, Geography, Arts and Crafts, Physical Education) wholly or partly in English or who might do so in the future. Teachers should have a language competence equivalent to the Council of Europe B2 level (intermediate) or above.

Course outcomes:

- Improvement of participants' key competencies and skills for school work
- Opportunity for post-course dissemination of good practice to other teachers in school/locally
- Increased understanding of how to foster quality improvements to teaching and learning
- Opportunities to develop and disseminate innovative teacher practice for better student engagement
- Development of linguistic skills and intercultural awareness
- Enhancement of international cooperation and development in education

Course aims

- To introduce you to exciting practical ideas for CLIL (Content and Language Integrated Learning) that you can use in your own classroom or teaching context.
- To offer a clear rationale for further exploration in this area.

Course programme

This is mainly a practical course. Topics typically include:

- Teacher language development

- Using internet resources for CLIL

Bell Teacher Campus

This course will take place at Bell Teacher Campus in Cambridge, based at Homerton College which is part of the University of Cambridge. Homerton College is an outstandingly beautiful college in secluded wooded grounds with easy access to Cambridge town centre. It has first-class learning and social facilities. Half-board accommodation is available in single en-suite rooms on site. The training staff at Bell Teacher Campus are all highly qualified, many of whom are materials writers and conference speakers. Afternoons entail a conference style approach with participants able to join an interesting variety of workshops, cultural talks and a special lecture each week from a prominent speaker.
